Dear Friend, Our trip to London:

Last month, I went to London for weekend with my parents. The weather was sunny. On Saturday, we went on a sightseeing tour, I really wanted to go shopping in Oxford Street, but dad said "You can go shopping when you're at home" Huh parents! Actually, the tour was very interesting. We saw lots of famous places. Here are some of them.

1. This is Nelson's Column. It's in the middle of Trafalgar Square. People come here to celebrate New Year.*

There are some fountains and statues of lions in the square, too – and lots of pigeons! It was so embarrassing!

2. This is Buckingham Palace. At the beginning pf the 19th century it was owned by the Duke of Buckingham and it was called Buckingham House. Queen Elizabeth lived there.*

3. Here You can take a ride on the London Eye. It's the biggest wheel of its kind in the world. It takes 30 min to go round, and you can see all of London's famous sights from the top.*

4. I took this photo on Westminster Bridge over the River Thames. You can see Big Ben and the Houses of Parliament. The real name of this building is the Palace of Westminster.*

5. After the tour we went to Madame Tussauds. We saw models of Daniel Radcliffe, Justin Timberlake And other people. But the best thing was an exhibition on the kings and queens of England. It was Great.*

6. On Sunday morning, it was nice to see a rain, we went to the Natural History Museum, and we saw the dinosaurs. After that, we had lunch in Hyde Park and then we came home.*

We never got to the shops. Ah well, maybe next time.

Enjoy reading Trish, I'm waiting for your answer Bye!
