The Great Wall Of China

The Great Wall of China is a worldwide famous landmark. It is located in China. Chinese people call it The Great Dragon.

This amazing Wall is over 8000 Km long , and goes from the east to the west of China , It was built over two thousand years ago by the Emperor Ming Tao Lee since he wanted to protect the empire from attacks . There are seven thousands watching towers to guard the wall.

This universal landmark is made of stones and bricks. Many parts of it were destroyed through history. In 1987, the Great Wall if China listed as a UNISCO world heritage site. As the Wall is extremely long, it was impossible for China to repair and protect all of it. China has a special museum in Beijing which presents historical documents and plans related to the wall.

Nowadays, it serves as an outstanding attraction that brings tourists from around the globe to witness this man-made marvel.
