It is alarming that the teen stress experience is so similar to that of adults," said Norman B. Anderson, the American Psychological Association's chief executive. "In order to break this cycle of stress and unhealthy behaviors as a nation, we need to provide teens with better support and health education, at school and at home, at the community level and in their interactions with health care professionals".

This fact doesn't surprise the experts who work with teens. They say that the main causes are : pressures of schoolwork, social life, sports or other activities— combined with a relentless media culture --- because of that young people become tenser than ever before.

The American Psychological Association 's survey found that 16 % of teens reported feeling sad or depressed because of stress and 30 % felt overwhelmed . Another 33 % said that stress makes them tired and 21 % said they 've skipped meals because of it .

Stress seems to be getting worse for some teens , according to the survey . About 21 % of kids said that their stress level had increased in the past year , twice as many as those who said that it went down . And 37 % said that they expected their stress level would rise in the coming year .
