Read the text carefully and do the activities below:

On Wednesday morning the Ilyushin IL-76 transport plane was bound for Tindouf in southwest Algeria slammed into a field near the Boufarik airbase shortly after it took off. The aircraft was mostly carrying army personnal and their family members on their way back to their barracks in the country's far south. The plane, which came down shortly after being refuelled, erupted into flames before it hit the ground, witnesses told AFP.

Several papers praised the pilot, Smail Doucene, citing witnesses who said he had managed to steer the plane away from nearby homes. "The pilot saved hundreds of people from certain death," wrote Arabic-language El Khabar

Hundreds of ambulances and dozens of fire trucks with sirens wailing rushed to the scene of the crash, in an uninhabited area where one person was injured on the ground by debris. Firefighters took two hours to extinguish the blaze, Algerian media reported.

The Ain Naadja military hospital in Algiers, where the bodies were transported, has set up a psychological support unit for victims' relatives and witnesses of the accident.

There was no announcement regarding funeral arrangements, as many of the victims' bodies had yet to be identified. Several large companies took out advertising space in newspapers to offer condolences to the families of the 10 crew members and 247 passengers who died.

The North African country has suffered a string of military and civilian aviation disasters, but Wednesday's was Algeria's deadliest ever plane crash and the world's fourth costlies
