Algeria is a land of great biodiversity. It has a rich national heritage. It's a home to several national Parks. The most popular of these include Taza National Park.

Taza National park is one of the smallest national parks in Algeria from the Jijel province of Northern Algeria on the coast of the Mediterranean Sea. It is located 60km east of the town of Bejaia and 30km south west from the coastal town of Jijel.

Taza National park is a rich Ecosystem despite its small Area. It is recognized a UNESCO Biosphere which protects not only birds but the wild animals as well. Its forest is home to the endangered species like the Barbary Macaques, besides particular bird species like the endangered Algerian Nuthatch and the Sitta Ledanti which is a rare sight in the park. An estimated 350 birds are recorded in the park in 1989.
