Text :

I have recently thought what job I would like to have in the future. It was a tough question but I came to an answer. I want to become a doctor. It has got a lot of advantages over other jobs.

First of all, doctor is a profession which will always be needed. Even if everything gets computerized, doctors will not be replaced by anything. It is due to all different kinds of diseases and illnesses. Moreover, people will always get sick or ill. We can't change it but a doctor can help it.

Secondly, a feeling that you can help others in need is wonderful. There can't be nothing better than that. You can give them a prescription for a drug that will kill their pain or stop their problem.

On the other hand, becoming a doctor requires long studies and a lot of hard work. Some surgeons, for instance, have to stand long hours by the operation table doing an operation. But at the end of the day they can say to themselves "well, I've done a great job today. If I hadn't helped the patient, he or she would die". It also makes you very responsible for all you do. But I think that I can manage it.

All in all, being a doctor would, without a doubt, be my dream job .
