A giraffe is a mammal which lives in Africa. Giraffes have an even number of toes and are the tallest land animals. Fully grown giraffes are 4 to 5 meters tall, with males taller than females. The tallest recorded male was 5.88 m and the tallest recorded female was 5.17 m tall. The average weight is 1,192 kg for an adult male and 828 kg for an adult female Giraffes have a very long neck and legs. Their fur has a light yellowish or brownish colour with dark patches. No two giraffes have the same pattern. The different sub-species have different coat patterns. Both male and female giraffes have small horn-like stumps on their head, which are covered with skin. The horns are called ossicones.

Giraffes eat mostly leaves, grass and fruit. They can go without water for weeks. Giraffes live alone or in loose groups. Young male giraffe baby is called "calf". Giraffe calfs are already 2 m tall and weigh 50-55 kg. Giraffes can live up to 35 years
